

WHOLE TOWN MOURNS FOR A DEAD PRIEST; ALL SCHOOLS CLOSE

Remarkable Tribute to Father
O'Connor by the People of Harrison, N. J.

The funeral of Rev. Father Maurice P. O'Connor, late pastor of Holy Cross Church, Harrison, N. J., was a remarkable demonstration of a people's affection. The public as well as the parochial schools were closed to-day, as were the business houses of the town, in respect for the memory of the dead priest.

packed to its utmost capacity, the crowds overflowing into the street. Men, women and children stood ten deep along Harrison avenue and the throng stretched down to Passaic River. Crowds went over from Newark to honor the dead priest's memory. There was a remarkable gathering along the route of the funeral procession to the cemetery of the Holy Sepulchre. The entire police force of East Newark and ten mounted men from the Newark Police Department assisted the Harrison police in the regulation of traffic. The body of the dead was carried by about two hundred clergymen prior to the mass, several bishops being among the number. Solemn high mass was celebrated by the Rev. M. J. White of St. Columba Church, Newark, with Rev. Joseph Marquette of Bloomfield and Rev. J. P. Poole of St. John's Church, Newark, sub-deacon. Rev. Michael J. Glennon, a former curate under Father O'Connor, was master of ceremonies. A eulogy was delivered over the deceased by the Rev. Bernard M. Rogan of St. Mary's Church, Plainfield.
